

Peter Nichols: Director

Peter joined the Land Conservancy at the end of 2018 after he retired from a 36-year career of teaching high school students biology and earth science. His undergraduate degree is in natural resources and environmental studies with a Masters in Education. Peter has always had an interest in the environment and used every opportunity to pass his knowledge and concerns to his students. He began the recycling program at RHS and ERMS in the late 80's early 90's, he started the RHS Garden and Garden Club in 2007-2008 which he ran for ten years, and is a "trail ranger" for the Ridgefield Conservation Commission.
